FOREWORD

We, the class of '52, have tried our best to make this yearbook one to be proud of. Our theme, Uncle Remus, describes life as it really is. We all have troubles that bother us like a thorn from the Briar Patch. Our teachers and parents have tried to help us over come these thorns and enjoy life. Within the covers of this book are some of the experiences we have had in this school. Like Uncle Remus' animals, who have been put into this book for a purpose, we also have a purpose in life. God put us here for a purpose, so let us do it willingly.

DEDICATION

We, the Students of the Senior Class of 1952, dedicate this yearbook to the YOUTH OF THE NATION in the hope that they will be inspired to strive for higher ideals of citizenship, sportsmanship, scholarship, ethical and moral values. We are grateful to our parents for instilling within us the desire to acquire these high standards; to our teachers and classmates for further inspiration on our quest. As we, representative of the youth of the nation, go out into the world, as individuals, may these ideals be our guide throughout the rest of our lives.

Wahtonian Staff

The Wahtonian Staff, which formerly consisted of only seniors, this year has two members from the junior class. They are the editor and the assistant editor of the 1953 Wahtonian, who were elected by the junior class.

Every senior had a chance to work with the staff by helping with the write-ups on clubs, sports, etc.

The staff has increased the size of the Wahtonian and has given more recognition to the underclassmen.

Principal's Message

To you the "Class of 1952" who have chosen the theme to carry through your yearbook—"Uncle Remus:"—

Three generations of American readers, young and old, have learned to love the laughter and the widsom in the tales of Uncle Remus. The pranks of Brer Rabbit, Brer Fox and Brer Bear have become a real part of American folklore. It is said that few people are aware of the original sources from which they came.

Those who really read and really love Uncle Remus, know that during the days of the Civil War, that one Joel Chandler Harris, while in Georgia, heard some of these legends in the dialect of the Georgian Negro. With great care he recorded, compiled, and finally edited what he had heard.

It was from these legends, this dialect, that the great Negro storyteller Uncle Remus was born. It was from the very tongue of Uncle Remus, a humble slave living alone in his one room cabin, that Brer Rabbit, Brer Fox, Brer Bear, and all his friends and even enemies come into being. Here they were born.

It was Joel Chandler Harris who made these creatures immortal, and Uncle Remus a character so lovable, so humorous, so understanding, that his influence lives in the hearts of men forever. In each story there comes a moral, simple but true.

Today, in this world of unrest and turmoil, if its people would apply the simple philosophies of Uncle Remus, there would be less trouble. From the beginning of man's struggle for knowledge, self-respect, and the recognition of his own rights, democracy is civilization's greatest gift.

"JESUS I LIVE TO THEE"

Written by

Rev. Dr. Henry Harbaugh—1850

(A native of Washington Township)

Jesus, I live to Thee,
The loveliest and best;
My life in thee, Thy life in me,
In Thy blest love I rest.

Jesus, I die to Thee,
Whenever death shall come;
To die in Thee is life to me
In my eternal home.

Whether to live or die,
I know not which is best;
To live in Thee is bliss to me,
To die is endless rest.

Living or dying, Lord,
I ask but to be Thine;
My life in Thee, Thy life in me,
Makes heaven forever mine.

Class History

FRESHMEN YEAR

On September 8, 1948, our class came into Township High as freshmen.

While we were unacquainted with the courses of study, teachers and school rules, never the less, we were soon oriented. Our first class meeting convened in room one. Our class advisers were Mrs. Neill and Mrs. Kreps. As a result of this first meeting the following people were elected to be class officers for the ensuing class year.

President—Robert Koons.

Vice President—Ralph Rowe.

Secretary—Doris Henicle.

Treasurer—Kristin Gardner.

Historian—Gerald Moser.

At our next meeting we selected the following:

Class Colors—Green and Gold

Class Flower—Yellow Rose Bud.

Class Motto—"Enter to learn; go forth to serve."

For the evening of October 8, the auditorium was appropriately decorated for our annual class party. Dancing occupied the greater part of the evening, followed by an entertaining movie. Tasty refreshments were prepared by the home economics girls.

During this year Betty Stahley, Richard Keller, Paul Monn, and Glenn Tressler, departed from our class.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Our sophomore school year began on September 6, 1949. Miss Eyler and Miss Witmer were our class advisers this year. We met on September 9, for our first sophomore class meeting and elected new officers:

President—Ralph Rowe.

Vice President—Edwin Heintzelman.

Secretary—Doris Johnson

Treasurer—Thelma Hardman

The eighteenth of November was the date our second class party was held. A movie, "The Ghost and the Guest," followed by dancing was the entertainment provided for this evening. As the previous year the home economics girls prepared the refreshments.

New members that we gained during this year were: Dorothy Anderson, Alva Brady, Robert Rathbone, and George McConnell.

JUNIOR YEAR

Our school year started on September 5, 1950. Our first class meeting was held the following week, on September 11, with Mrs. Leisinger and Miss Morter, advisers. These people were elected officers of our junior class:

President—Edwin Heintzelman.

Vice President—Robert George.

Secretary—Doris Henicle.

Treasurer—Thelma Hardman.

Permission was granted to our class by Mr. Lohman to change our class colors and class flower.

In keeping with the theme of Halloween the auditorium was decorated for our class party which was held on October 25. Dancing was enjoyed by all assembled and again the refreshments were prepared by the home economics girls.

From November 13 through December 4, over one ton of Christmas candy was sold by the class. "Brides to Burn," a hilarious comedy was the title of our Junior Class Play presented on the evenings of May 2 and 3 respectively.

In honor of the seniors, we sponsored the annual Junior-Senior Prom, May the eleventh. The auditorium was made to represent a tropical South Sea Island. There was dancing to music by Walt Sheldon and his orchestra and during intermission refreshments were served.

Students entering our class during this year were: Jane McClain, Terry Overstreet and Walter Fleagle.

SENIOR YEAR

President—Edwin Heintzelman.

Vice President—Mae Petry.

Secretary—Doris Henicle.

Treasurer—Thelma Hardman.

September 26 our auditorium was transformed into a typical Dutch scene for our annual class party. Entertainment during the evening included dancing and a display of some of the talent by members of the class. The teachers also were active participants and displayed their various talents.

As the previous year we sold Christmas candy and we also sponsored a food sale.

On the evenings of December 5 and 6, our Senior Class play, "Doctors Orders," was presented.

Thursday, February 14, the seniors decorated the auditorium for the Valentine Dance, sponsored by the Dancing Club.

May 16, the juniors honored us by sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom.

The senior banquet was held, May 15, in the Salem Church. It was attended by parents, teachers, and class members.

Our school auditorium was the scene of our Baccaulaurate Service, held on the twenty-fiifth of May.

The twenty-sixth of May, our Commencement exercises were held in the school auditorium. Margaret Criswell Disert, Dean of Wilson College was our guest speaker.

The following students entered our class during the year: Joan Cook, Virginia Mary Kubit, Rhoda Heishman, Esther Masser, Robert Chen, and Fritz Schmidt.

Principal's Message to the Underclassmen

The following message is written strictly for the benefit of the underclassmen of the Washington Township High School. On second thought this article should make good reading for any pupil who will enter high school within the next few years.

For every article that is written for the year book there is a purpose. When this article is read the purpose or purposes will be obvious, so read it carefully. If you are in doubt as to what counts during your high school career, reread this article for it is definitely for your consideration.

First when you enter high school much consideration should be given to your future vocation. By the end of your first year, because of your associations with various teachers, classmates, and people in general, you should have some definite plans for your future vocation.

Second, in choosing your vocation don't overlook the people of the past who have influenced your life most; your parents, your grade teachers, your minister, your doctor, or some business man.

Third, it is now assumed that you know what you are aiming to do in life. Take the course of study in high school which will best fit you for the thing you wish to do. If you choose one of the professions then consider the Academic Course; engineering, the Scientific course; business, the Commercial course; Agriculture, the Vocational Agriculture Course, home-maker, etc., the Vocational Home Economics course. If you have no definite plans, at least for the first year, consider the Academic course for the languages that you learn will never come amiss regardless of what you do.

Fourth, a good scholarship record is essential. Most colleges where scholarships are given, will consider only the upper few in the class. Today many good scholarships are being given by colleges and universities. If you want a college education and money is a problem, then a good scholastic record is the answer.

Regardless of what you do in life, top consideration must be given to scholarship. When people inquire about a graduate they ask the following questions:

1. What is this person's average for four years?
2. What is the rank in relation to the entire class?
3. In which subjects did he make the best grades?
4. In which subjects did he make the poorest grades?
5. In what extra curricular activities ded he engage?

Fifth, deportment or citizenship, is one of the most important grades on the report card. Ninety per cent is considered satisfactory. It cannot be overlooked that when you become employed, especially just after graduation, that the employer takes a long look at this grade.

Sixth, attendance is another very important item. Even when times are good as they are today and jobs are not at a premium, any man who has a good job to offer will consider how regularly you have attended school. It is sound business to back as many absences with doctor's statements as possible. If space would permit, I would like to tell you my experiences with placing graduates in jobs in relation to attendance in school.

Seventh, extra-curricular activities are essential today. It is not how many activities you carry that counts, but the job you do while associated with that activity. Colleges, business men etc., are interested in the extra things you do while in school.

Eighth, your cumulative record card and files should be considered. The faculty and administration take pride in the files set up for each pupil. You should remember that this file is the book you write while in school. Each year is a chapter in itself. Everything good, bad, or indifferent is recorded here. You should guard it jealously and write for yourself the best possible record. It is this file that the colleges and businessmen go over very carefully. Here are found your excuse blanks, tardy slips, letters written in your behalf, your extra curricular activity records and many things too numerous to mention.

This is an appeal to you to write a true record showing a job well done, for your record can help or hinder your progress after graduation.

Who's Who and Why
(of 1952)

Although it has never been published it is known through our remarkable power that we can project ourselves forward through the years into any given time in which we are interested. Being restless and weary with the cares of the day, we longed for a change of scene and time.

So, closing our eyes and relaxing, we wished ourselves into the library of our Alma Mater, thirty years from now. We found ourselves in the reference room of a magnificent new building. As we glanced at the shelves, our eyes were attracted by a thin red leather volume. Taking it down, we saw that the title was, "Who's Who and Why, in Waynesboro and Vicinity." Eagerly we turned the pages and read the preface. When we saw how interesting it was we fled back into the Now, bringing the book with us. We would like to share with you some of the incidents which we found. We are certain you will be interested.

"Who's Who and Why, in Waynesboro and Vicinity," dedicated to the class of 1952, which class furnished most of the contents. Preface. There are few names in this book, but not few enough. This club, now in its fifth year of existence, provided an excellent opportunity for interested students of Latin to further their knowledge in entertaining ways.

A member of the Junior Classical League of America, its members were participants in its annual banquet, the year's highlight, a commemoration in replica of the Roman feast.

Approximately a dozen members this year were eligible for awards given by their adviser.

Club periods never to be forgotten were: Christmas carols in Latin; slave auction followed by demonstration of skills by the slaves for their masters; preparation for the Latin assembly program, and the conversational Spanish lessons taught via records.

Since its beginning in 1947 each year has seen more improvements added by Miss Eyler. The popularity of this club is evidenced by the large roll which can be attributed to the benefits derived by those who give their utmost loyalty and enthusiasm.

This past year's activities included judging cattle, educational trips to both the Hagerstown and South Mountain Fairs, and an all day trip to the Pennsylvania State Farm Show in Harrisburg. Another activity of the F. F. A. was selling hot dogs at noon and selling hot dogs and popcorn at basketball games. The F. F. A. sponsored an annual Father and Son Banquet which was held in February.

The F. F. A. has in the annual plan of work the sponsoring of projects for the benefit of the school. In previous years these projects were such as painting annexes, the shop, and maintenance jobs. This year the project sponsored by the F. F. A. was refinishing library tables and several teacher's desks. This Club met every Thursday and held night meetings once a month.

Football

The "Bulldogs" of Washington Township High School returned to the gridiron for the 1951 season with determination in their minds to win the Laurel Conference Championship. With only three weeks to practice, they had to practice hard and long to prepare for the tough games ahead of them.

With cooperation and untiring efforts of Mr. Martz and his assistant Mr. Newman, the Bulldog completed the season with the Laurel Conference Championship to their credit. They had a 9-1 record with their only loss which was to the boys of Scotland.

At the end of the season the Washington Township Athletic Committee honored the boys at a banquet at which they awarded to each member of the team a sweater with chenille emblems. These awards were greatly appreciated.

The Washington Township High School is certainly proud of the boys and their coaches and hope they have a successful season next year.

The cheerleaders did a very good job of cheering the teams on to victory this season.

These nine girls worked very hard, made up new motions for some of the old cheers, and also learned new cheers and new motions.

Their outfits consisted of maroon corduroy skirts with gray insertions at the seams. Because of the short notice in getting new outfits they wore the regular maroon school jackets.

After two years of faithful service each girl gets her "W" to keep.
